SAVED HER LIFE.

Mrs. L. A. Haskell of Charlestown, Mass., Rescued from the Grave.
Mrs. L. A. Haskell was a dreadful sufferer from nervous debility. Life was gradually passing away. She could barely walk. Became but a shadow of her former self. Prominent physicians could not help her. Weeks in the country were of no avail. Turned her footsteps sadly homeward. Family and friends felt anxious. Thought she must die. A friend recommended Midgden's Magnetic Compound. It proved an angel helper. It was the Good Samaritan in the hour of need. It rescued her from the very brink of the grave. Under date of Jan. 24, 1892, she says: "I am now in very excellent health—a living testimony to the rare worth of Midgden's Magnetic Compound." They all tell the same story. Patients improve from the very first dose. The flush of health returns. They are soon well and strong. Our compound is not a sarsaparilla. Do not confound it with such mixtures. It is a valuable all the year 'round medicine. It cures nervous diseases, paralysis, rheumatism, heart disease, diseases of the blood, liver and kidneys, and stomach troubles of every name and nature. Midgden's Magnetic Compound sells on its merits. It does not require to be boomed. A trial wins its new friends everywhere. Composed of carefully selected and scientifically prepared roots, herbs and barks, it is a natural medicine. It cures in the natural way. If you try it once you will always recommend it. It is the coming medicine. Druggists, $1. BUY IT, TRY IT, IT WILL DO YOU GOOD. If you are sick do not delay. Try

The Owner, Not the Trotter, the Victim of an Accident.

HE PICKED HIMSELF UP AND DROVE TO THE FINISH.

That Happened in One of Yesterday's Races at Waterville—No Great Harm Done—The Famous Trotter Given a Quarter on the Track—Good Crowds See the Trotters at Mystic Park.

[Special to the Press.]

WATERVILLE, June 15.—The races at Waterville Driving Track today were well attended. There was a good field of horses and the track was never in better condition. About 200 teams were on the grounds. Maud M. had no trouble in winning two straight heats in the 2.33 class, finishing at an easy jog. Guy Edwards' sulky collided with Nelson's during the last quarter of the 2.33 race, demolishing the sulky and hurling Nelson over the fence. He struck on the back of his head, making a bad gash. One leg was also somewhat battered; but Nelson, with his customary grit, declared that he was not half killed yet, and gathered himself together and drove in the next heat, something that probably few other horses in Maine would have done. THE CONGREGATIONALISTS.

Yesterday's Proceedings of the Conference at Machias.

MACHIAS, June 15.—The Congregational conference held a 6 o'clock prayer meeting this morning, and a devotional service at 8.30 a. m. At 9 o'clock came the Maine Missionary Society's anniversary. Rev. J. E. Adams, the secretary, in his report said: "The following summary gives an idea of the work accomplished by the society during the year: 118 churches have been added; two churches have been organized; 115 men have been employed, of whom 74 are ordained, and 41 are licentiates or students; seven have been ordained; the average attendance upon Sabbath worship is reported to be 9,420, at Sunday school 7,600, at week day prayer meeting 4,240, and these come from 5,113 families; the 118 churches have a membership of 1,905 males and 4,348 females, giving a total of 6,253; the hopeful conversions are 499, and the additions by confession 277, by letter 116, giving 903 in the total. The reports noted a loss of 124 by death and 82 by dismission, in all 206, still leaving a gain of 187. Houses of worship have been dedicated at Jackman and Perry. The religious work accomplished by individuals were $6,044.49; receipts from the Woman's Auxiliary, $1,576.06; receipts from legacies, $10,315.50; receipts from income of funds, $3,665.41; total, $21,890.55."

The speeches were animated on the mission work, northern Aroostook having attracted attention. Contributions were called for and Daniel J. Sawyer gave $50 and J. R. Libby $50. In all $105 were pledged for the Aroostook mission. In the afternoon the Maine Charitable Society, Prof. Denio secretary, made its report. Reports from Bowdoin College, Bangor Theological Seminary, the Maine Bible Society and other organizations also of the visitors to and from corresponding bodies were received. The report from the Sunday school department by Rev. B. P. Snow was read.

Farmers at Orono.

ORONO, June 15.—The farmers' field day at the Maine State College opened auspiciously with 400 in attendance. An interesting programme, including dinner at the college and a military drill was carried out.

Bath's Sensation Soon Over.

BATH, June 15.—The excitement over the liquor cases has died out. No more warrants have been served. The appearance of one of the spotters on the street this morning was the signal for a general outburst of disapproval on the part of those who were gathered there. Quite a crowd collected on the corner of Front and Center streets, and personal violence was threatened. The young man, for it was Wyman, the York county witness, was finally advised by an officer to leave the street and the crowd then dispersed. The spotters left on the afternoon train and the whole affair will probably die a natural death.

BIDDEFORD'S PERIL.

A Blazing Barn, No Hydrant Streams and a Slow Engine.

[Special to the Press.]

BIDDEFORD, June 15.—Biddeford had a narrow escape from a destructive fire tonight and the blaze was only kept within its original limits by the combined efforts of both the Biddeford and the Saco fire departments.

The large stable on Birch street connected with the house of David B. Hill, carpenter and builder, and used by his son, Herbert H. Hill, expressman, was discovered to be all on fire at half past 7 o'clock by someone who happened to go to the barn. The barn is in one of the most thickly built sections of the city and before the hose carriage arrived the fire was under tremendous headway, blazing embers falling on all the surrounding buildings. Being on an elevation, the hydrant streams, which are much relied on here in case of fire, were of no use, as they would not carry 15 feet and could not have reached a first story window. One of the Biddeford engines requires 15 minutes to get up steam, and it was practically of no use at this fire. The other engine and an engine sent for from Saco in a hurry, did good work.

Four five or buildings across the street and further down were on fire at different times but the Saco engine extinguished them. The residence of Mrs. J. J. Bridge on Foss street and of Charles Allen on Mt. Vernon street both caught fire and vigorous blazes were at one time going at both places. Half an hour after the alarm sounded the barn was nothing but ruins. The house connected with the barn caught fire but was prevented from burning.

Three horses which were in the barn at the time were got out, as were several wagons, but some sleighs and sleds were destroyed. Mr. Hill's loss on the barn was $200. The house and barn are owned by the widow of Dr. James Knights, who is now in California. They originally cost $10,000. Loss on barn $1500; on house $500; insurance unknown. The cause of the fire is a mystery.

It at one time looked as if all the buildings in the vicinity of the barn would have to go and it was only the heavy rain of the night before that saved them.

An Augusta Blaze.

AUGUSTA, June 15.—Fire this evening destroyed S. S. Brook's storehouse and contents. Loss, $5,000; insurance, $3000.

THE GATHERING OF THE CLANS.

The Cleveland Boom; the Boles Boomlet and the Hill Still Hunt.

CHICAGO, June 15.—The Democratic national convention is showing the first signs of becoming a thing of life and by tomorrow will begin to grow until by next Tuesday, the biggest convention the Democratic party ever held will be full grown. Governor Boies' managers from Iowa this morning established headquarters at the Palmer House and were kept busy during the day sending out documents and pamphlets showing the great popularity and safety of Iowa's son. The Iowa people claim Boies will have 75 to 100 votes on the first ballot and he will be nominated on the seventh or eighth ballot.

The Cleveland men have established headquarters at the Grand Pacific where two young ladies are hard at work sending out letters, circulars and articles to various delegates who it is supposed are to be won over if the proper evidence is forthcoming of Cleveland's strength. The Hill men who have so far appeared are Charles F. Peck of New York. Peck is loudly proclaiming Hill's virtues and his ability as a vote getter.

The Boies boomers says it is first place for him or nothing. They are not waiting for him on the motion of the second place on a ticket for him, having a design to send him to the Senate if he be not a presidential candidate. Arrangements are being made for a demonstration in favor of Governor Boies which will open the eyes of Democrats from the South and East.

The so-called "big four," Col. Richard Croker, Boss McLaughlin, Edward Murphy and Lieut. Governor Sheehan will arrive tomorrow. The probabilities are the entire opposition to Cleveland will be divided and directed by the Hill men who when convinced there is no chance for their man will centre upon a dark horse.

Important Typewriter Decision.

NEW YORK, June 14.—Judge Lacombe, sitting in the United States Circuit Court here, has, on the motion of the Remington Typewriter Company, granted an injunction against the agents of the Franklin restraining the sale of that machine on account of an infringement of the Remington patents. The decision is an important one, as it proves the control of the fundamental patents and may affect other makers of typewriters. The Remington people have heretofore been quite passive, but it is stated on good authority that they are now likely to proceed against all other typewriter manufacturers of the country. In some cases, purchasers of machines which infringe Remington patents, may also be proceeded against for infringement.

A Western Horror.

CINCINNATI, O., June 15.—A bridge over the Licking river, between Covington and Newport, fell today. A crew of 43 men were at work on the bridge today engaged in putting in place the heavy iron work on the main span, when suddenly there was a cracking sound of breaking timbers, and a headlong plunge of the whole mass into the water, 30 feet below. Many forms were to be seen struggling on the surface. Others were drowned or crushed by the material. Twenty-two bodies have been taken from the river thus far.

Living L. Hill Acquitted.

ALFRED, June 15.—In the Supreme Court of York county today Living L. Hill of Saco was acquitted by the jury on the charge of poisoning his wife. The case was on trial three days.

That Was by a Tornado in Canada, and Was Worse Than Anything Which Happened in Maine—Another Victim of the Steamboat Accident at Bangor Found—Citizens of Mariaville Called Out in the Storm To Fight Fires—Reports of Trouble from All Over Maine.

BANGOR, Me., June 15.—The cyclone which struck eastern Maine Tuesday, was probably the most severe ever known here. The capsizing of the little steamer Annie and the attendant loss of life has cast a gloom over the community. Today, another body, that of Mrs. Jerry McDonald, was found, and it is feared there may be other victims as no one knew just how many were on the boat.

The damage at Maplewood Park, in this city, is $2000. The loss at Orono is $5000 or $8000, and all through this section the losses aggregate many thousands of dollars. A loss of $50,000 by fire at the American ice house, with the cyclone, will make Tuesday remembered as a day unfortunate, by Hampden people.

At Stillwater,

a bolt of lightning struck the chimney in the store of Mr. Granville B. Michaels precipitating it onto the top of John J. Quimby's store. The chimney, almost without the loss of a brick, went crashing through the roof, tearing a hole large enough to admit a dozen men, smashing lamps, store fixtures and goods, and leaving Mr. Quimby's store in a perfect mass of ruins. The damage amounts to a considerable sum. Mr. Quimby had recently remodelled his store. The shock was so severe that the plate glass windows of Mr. Michaels's store were broken in, and Mrs. Michaels was terribly overcome.

The buildings on Main street, near Bridge, owned by John Fox and occupied as a shop and storehouse, were levelled to the ground and entirely demolished. Mr. Fox had lately moved all of his household effects to this shop, and they are almost an entire loss. The church chimney was blown down, and two barns on the College road, one owned by Mr. Spear and the other by Mr. Pretto, were laid low. Many large trees, of which the village felt proud, were stricken.

At Mariaville,

twenty-five miles east of Bangor, in Hancock county, the hottest and hardest fire the citizens ever had to fight broke out. A barn belonging to A. H. Buzzell & Son was struck by lightning at about 7 o'clock during the heavy shower and in a short time the flames had communicated fire to two other barns. The large tannery boarding house and the spool mill, owned by the same concern were next ignited, soon burning beyond control. The general store of James B. Kennison, with nearly all the contents, next succumbed to the fierce flames and it was apparently but a moment before it was laid in ruins. The last to catch was the new blacksmith shop of Thomas O. Hanscomb and that was burned flat. The residence of Mr. Hanscomb was in imminent danger but by hard fighting by the bucket brigade it was saved. Quite an amount of furniture was burned. In one barn twenty tons of hay were destroyed. The bridge near the tannery was burned.

A Cyclone Visited Patten

in the early hours of Monday morning and extended all along the Aroostook road. Shade trees in Patten village were practically destroyed. Daniel McDonald's barn in Benedicta was blown down, while miles of fences along the roads were demolished. An immense balm of Gilead tree near G. H. Merrill's house was blown out by the roots. The saddle boards blew off the roof of Mr. Crye's house and passed with fearful force through the window, just missing a bed in which two persons were sleeping. The rain fall was very slight but the wind was terrible. A house and barn in Montague belonging to Mr. Lancaster were struck by lightning and consumed. The hall at this place was the worst ever seen. Some of the stones were 2½ inches in diameter.

At the pulp mill at Montague, 750 lights of glass were blown out and in the mill at Hartland 800 lights were broken. The windows were all blown out of the boarding house. A man named Jones had a new house nearly finished and one side was blown in. A man who was crossing the road was badly and narrowly escaped with his life. Levant has suffered from nearly every storm which has visited this region for some years and its people are commencing to become discouraged. In yesterday's cyclone, Frank Tebbetts had the roof of his barn entirely removed and the house badly damaged by timbers falling upon it. Charles F. Reed had part of the roof of his barn blown away. C. G. Niles had some out-buildings demolished, and at the village the sheds around the church were unroofed and destroyed.

At East Hampden, the storm struck with great force and it wonderful that more damage was not done. Trees and fences were leveled to the ground in all parts of the town. The barn of Thomas Cary was blown from its foundation and was tipped about over. One end of a barn owned by Edwin Cary was blown in. The large barn of R. W. Murch was moved about four inches on its foundation.

At Bradley, a barn belonging to Levi Knapp was blown over. A house was blown down here and a woman and child in it narrowly escaped death. Several other barns were demolished on the railroad.

Along the line of the Dexter & Piscataquis railroad, the wind did great damage to trees, fences, etc. A long line of snow fence beyond Newport, built by the Maine Central, was blown down and covered the road for some distance. When Conductor Owens's train came along it was brought to a standstill until the track could be cleared.

HOW IT HAPPENED.

Particulars of the Capsizing of the Little Steamer Annie.

BANGOR, June 15.—The following are the particulars of last evening's sad accident by which Miss Adams and Mrs. McDonald lost their lives. The small steamer Annie, which plies on the river between Bangor and Hampden, and which can easily seat 35 passengers, and can carry even more, was coming to Bangor on her last trip of the afternoon. On board were 16 passengers besides Capt. Atwood and his engineer, J. S. Gerry. The most of the party were people who had taken the sail down the river to avoid the scorching heat and the party was in the best of spirits. Among them were Dr. Charles E. Adams, director of the gymnasium of Michigan University, and formerly of Bowdoin and Rutgers Colleges, who is quite a noted

The Hibernians.
BANGOR, June 15.—The delegates to state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians met this forenoon, and after listening to the report of the committee, attended services at St. John's church in a body. The state secretary and treasurer made reports which show the order to be in a flourishing condition and on a good financial basis. The next state convention will be held at Lewiston.

PROBABLE CANDIDATES.
What Knox County Prohibitionists Are Expected To Do.
[Special to the Press.]
ROCKLAND, Me., June 15.—The Prohibition county convention will be held in this city tomorrow afternoon. Volney B. Cushing and the Bangor Prohibition Quartette will be present. Your correspondent has interviewed a number of prominent prohibitionists in this city from whom he learns that the ticket nominated tomorrow will be made up something like this:
Senator—William J. Robbins of Rockport. County Commissioner—Hiram H. Crie of Rockland, or Dr. Albert F. Piper of Rockport. County Attorney—Walter V. Perry of Camden, formerly editor of the Portland Herald. Sheriff—H. M. Bean of Camden. Treasurer—Alvah B. Clark of Rockland. Judge of Probate—H. G. McCurdy of Washington. Register of Probate—William H. Bradford of Thomaston.
Of the above, Clark is the present incumbent, and has also just been re-nominated by the People's party. McCurdy was nominated on the People's ticket, but declined to accept. The convention will be followed by a grand rally in the evening.

WESTBROOK SEMINARY.
The Class Day and Junior Exercises Yesterday.
The annual meeting of the board of trustees of Westbrook Seminary was held yesterday afternoon. The attendance was large and the reports of the various committees indicated a healthy and vigorous condition of its affairs. The officers elected were these:
President—Hon. Henry Lord, Bangor. Vice President—Alfred Woodman, Esq., Portland. Recording Secretary—A. H. Moulton, Esq., Portland. Corresponding Secretary—Rev. W. R. French, D. D., Turner. Treasurer—Charles S. Fobes, Esq., Portland.
Resolutions were passed commending the retiring principal, Professor Allen, and also in recognition of the faithful services of Mrs. Allen and of Professor Stone.

This afternoon at 2.30 the inauguration of Rev. H. S. Whitman will take place. The address of investiture will be made by ex-Governor Perham in behalf of the trustees. The prospects of the seminary were never more flattering than now.
The class day exercises at the Seminary yesterday afternoon were of special interest. The classes are well filled and highly intelligent and advanced, representing some of the best and most progressive young educational ideas in Maine. The decorations were of peculiar beauty and harmony. Professor Grimmer's orchestra discoursed charming music.
The following was the order for the afternoon:
Oration—G. E. Noyes
Poem—Flora G. Thompson
Class History—Katie G. Knight
Class Proceedings—Helen E. Moore
Presentations—Misses Rideout and Weatherbee Presented by Miss Weatherbee.

All the features on the programme were of marked interest.
Junior Exhibition in the Evening.
The junior exercises in the evening were very interesting and pleasing and were deserving of much credit. The programme included essays by Winthrop R. Burleigh, Deering; Mary I. Gardner, Patten; Harriet H. Graves, Searsport; Albert D. M. Robinson, Windham; Mary E. Kenney, Oakland; Edna M. Lemont, Cape Elizabeth; Sadie Pike, Bridgton; George T. Wilson, Columbia Falls.
Westbrook Commencement.
Westbrook commencement will begin at 9.30 o'clock this morning at All Souls' church. Dinner will be served in Hersey Hall at 1 p. m. At 2.30 President Whitman will hold their annual meeting, and at 7.30 there will be a social reunion.

POLITICAL NOTES.
The Yarmouth delegates to the Democratic county convention will probably be kept by Somers. The anti-Somers faction claim that the caucus was held by local time when it should have been held by standard time. But it is said that the principal industry of the town, the pulp mill, uses local time, and that time is as much in use among the people as the standard. Moreover, the caucus was presided over by Captain Harding, chairman of the town committee for quarter of a century, and was attended by leading Democrats. "The fellows who are kicking," said a leading Yarmouth Democrat to a Press correspondent, "are men who have ordinarily not taken enough interest to go to caucuses." Further than this, the chairman did not call the caucus to order until 10 minutes after the time.

Major William Dickey, Duke of Fort Kent, arrived in this city yesterday. Major Dickey was in Gardiner yesterday, where he visited the tomb of his old neighbor, the famous George Evans. Mr. Dickey has known all the famous men who have played their parts on the Maine political stage in the last fifty years, and abounds in reminiscences of them.
At a Republican caucus held at Watford June 11, the following delegates were chosen:
State—J. W. Warren, George L. Warren and C. S. Hamlin.
County—William Douglas, A. S. Hapgood and H. M. Fiske.
The delegates favor Cleaves for governor and J. W. Warren for register of probate for Oxford county.

At a caucus of the Republicans of Harpswell for choosing delegates to the State convention, on Monday evening, June 13, Capt. J. B. Pinkham, Moses Bailey and Isaac Merriman, 2nd, were chosen delegates and were instructed to vote for H. B. Cleaves for candidate for Governor. The position of the Republican party on both State and national questions gives the Republicans of Harpswell the fullest confidence of a grand victory this fall for the able leader of Portland and for the national ticket.

VETERANS OF THE POTOMAC.
Boston Will Entertain Their Society Next Year.
SCRANTON, Pa., June 14.—The trains last night brought a swarm of men into the city to attend the Society of the Army of Potomac reunion. The exercises this morning were of an informal nature. President Butterfield called the business session to order at noon. Boston was selected as the next place of meeting. Gen. King offered a resolution amending the constitution so that members of the navy, who acted in conjunction with the Army of the Potomac may be admitted members. This was adopted. Then followed the election of officers as follows:
President—Gen. Horace Porter. Vice President—Byt. Maj. General E. J. Monieux, of the Ninth Army Corps. Secretary—Gen. Horatio C. King, Brooklyn. Corresponding Secretary—Gen. George H. Sharpe, Kingston, N. Y. Treasurer—Col. Treedell, New York.

CAPTURED IN THE FOURTH.
The Portlands Won Yesterday's Game by Good Playing.
The home team captured yesterday's game in their fourth, when four singles, a home run and a brace of errors netted them four runs, a lead which was altogether too large for the visitors to overcome, and which left no particular further interest in the game. Klobdanz pitched a great game, struck out nine of the visitors, and made a home run, bringing in two ahead of him. Annis made a magnificent difficult running catch in deep left. Attendance, 450. The score:

FOR PRESIDENT.

Benjamin Harrison.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT.

WHITELAW REID.

Maine got a touch Tuesday of the genuine Western cyclone.

City Marshal Swett carried all the caucuses last night except the one in Ward 1, which was captured by Mr. Somers. Mr. Tolman was nowhere. A city marshal's uniform is very potent with a good many Democratic voters.

The Kennebec Journal calls for the use of the check list at the Augusta caucuses to choose delegates to the district convention. This seems to be a reasonable request. Experience has shown that in all large places when the contest is earnest men are liable to get into caucuses and take part in the proceedings who have no right to be there. Portland Republicans long ago made it a rule to use the check list in all exciting contests, and the result has been eminently satisfactory. Republicans are always ready to accept and abide by the result of a caucus when it is fair one, but a caucus tainted with fraud—no matter what the nature of the fraud—is certain to leave behind it a bitterness that is sure to militate against success in the subsequent election.

The Boston Journal publishes what it calls the true story of Mr. Blaine's resignation from the cabinet. According to this story the resignation grew out of an interference on the part of Mr. J. W. Foster with the negotiation between the state department and the Canadian officials. At the Saturday conference, according to the story, Mr. Blaine was making a statement of his views of the points in dispute, and what in his judgment was the question at issue and the differences between the two countries when Mr. J. W. Foster who was present, interrupted him with the suggestion that the views he had expressed would hardly meet the approval of the President. After Mr. Foster had offered this suggestion, Mr. Blaine reiterated his previous statements and added with emphasis that "the State Department was able to take care of all the business belonging to it without advice or interference from any one occupying a subordinate position in it." Mr. Foster again reiterated his suggestion and then proceeded to state the views of the President "by" he said "the President's direction and in his name." Mr. Blaine then immediately adjourned the conference, and quickly leaving the room penned his resignation. This story to say the least is a highly improbable one. It is hardly possible that Mr. Blaine could have been ignorant of the President's views on the questions at issue, inasmuch as they had been pending many months. But assuming that he was and that his views did not correspond to those of the President it is still more improbable that Mr. Foster would have corrected Mr. Blaine in the curt fashion that the story sets forth, either on his own notion or by direction of the President unless the latter was anxious to humiliate Mr. Blaine and drive him out of the Cabinet, which is extremely unlikely. It seems to us that it is perfectly safe to dismiss this story as a product of the silly season, too absurd to command a moment's attention.

THE STATE CAMPAIGN.

There are many reasons for anticipating one of the sharpest campaigns this year that this state has seen since the Greenback era. In the first place the issues, both state and national, are going to be more sharply defined, and the dividing line between the two parties more clearly marked. The Maine Democracy have finally been brought up to a pretty nearly unanimous support of a tariff for revenue only. And judging from the unanimity with which the resubmission plank was adopted in the recent State convention, the great mass of the party has been brought round to look with favor on a license policy. In years past the Democracy has been inclined to hedge on both these questions. Four years ago it declared for a tariff for revenue only, but when the campaign got hot there was a good deal of faltering on its part and a disposition to modify the tariff declaration. Two years ago the resubmission plank was adopted in the State convention, but the support it got in the campaign was lukewarm and half-hearted. This year the leaders—those people who are supposed to strike the "key notes" of campaigns for their party—seem disposed to stand up straight on both of these questions.

Another reason why the campaign is likely to be a hot one is to be found in the unusual enthusiasm which pervades the Democratic party. Since the Greenback party collapsed the Democratic party in this state has been, until this year, about as lifeless a body as exists outside a grave yard. It braced up a little in the last Presidential campaign, but for the most of the time it has been as devoid of enthusiasm as an inanimate machine. It has felt that it had no chance of success, and therefore it has entered upon the campaign with little spirit. This year there is a change. What has brought it about is not, perhaps, of great consequence. The important fact is that it has come and that the party will enter upon this campaign with much more spirit and enthusiasm than it has exhibited in many years. It has hope this year, not of course of electing Mr. Johnson but of gaining a good many seats in the legislature and of capturing some important county officers, and consequently it will fight with far more than its usual determination.

To be sure the Democratic campaign is to be in many respects a very ignoble one. Its keynote has been pitched to suit the basest elements in the party's composition. But it must not be inferred that this will have the effect of driving off any considerable part of the better element. National considerations will hold most of them in line, disgusted though they be with the action of the party on local questions. For this reason we look for less "kicking" over the re-submission plank than was witnessed two years ago. Maine is the first state to hold an election, and a great many of the better element will swallow their disgust, lest a poor showing in Maine should have an unfavorable effect on the Democratic national campaign.

NADEAU LEAVES THE JAIL,

And Is Not Polite Enough To Bid the Officers Good-bye.

Nadeau, the man who was arrested in this city some time ago for a serious assault on one Bellefontaine at Windham, and who was sentenced by the court to a term of service at the jail, escaped from that institution yesterday.

Nadeau had been engaged by the sheriff in painting inside the house. Yesterday afternoon, about 4 o'clock, he left and was not missed for some little time. He probably walked out of the front door. He had on overalls and a jumper, over his suit of clothes. When last heard from he was said to be in Yarmouth. He will probably be arrested soon.

WEDDINGS.

Dresser-Blethen.

A wedding that calls for special mention was that of Miss Anna J. Blethen of the Portland Deaf Mute School and Mr. Edward L. Dresser of Turner, at the residence of Mrs. Humphreys, No. 217 Cumberland street, yesterday. The house was beautifully decorated with flowers, the gifts of friends. Almost all the alumni of the school for the deaf, and present pupils, were present, and it was the quietest wedding imaginable. Rev. Mr. Hughes officiated and displayed another of his varied accomplishments in that he was enabled to converse freely with the groom by the sign manual. The bride read the service from the lips of the clergyman. After the service an elegant breakfast was served. There were numerous gifts, many valuable and all useful. The bride and groom were in travelling costume and one of the prettiest features of the wedding was little Leslie Canham in black velvet, and Ethel Hersom in white, who preceded Mr. and Mrs. Dresser. After the collation the newly married couple left for the train, followed by showers of rice and the best wishes of their many friends.

Clarke-Shirley.

The marriage of Mr. Fred S. Clarke and Miss Helen A. Shirley took place yesterday morning at the residence of the bride's parents on High street. Rev. W. H. Fenn, D. D., officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Clarke left on the noon train to be absent about ten days.

Potter-Martin.

G. Edward Potter, M. D., of Newark, N. J., and Miss Flora Martin of Westbrook, were united in marriage yesterday morning at the residence of the bride, 114 Main street, Westbrook. The services took place at 10 o'clock and were conducted by Rev. A. N. Dary. Dr. and Mrs. Potter left for Newark. The presents were many and beautiful, including a silver pudding mould from Naomi Lodge, D. of R., and silver water pitcher from Calanthe Assembly of the Pythian Sisterhood.

GORHAM.

Mrs. Charles T. Gupitill Drowns Herself and Her Child.

The wife of Mr. Charles F. Gupitill of West Gorham, with her babe of four months, committed suicide by drowning in a tank near their home some time Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Gupitill was away from home at the time and on his return thorough search was made for the missing woman and continued until a late hour, when a note was found telling them that she had drowned herself and that her body could be found in a deep swimming hole. Grappling hooks were procured and the bodies of mother and babe brought to the surface. Mrs. Gupitill was about 22 years of age. No cause can be assigned for the deed.

"Children's Day" was observed at the Methodist Episcopal church last Sunday. A carpenter at work on Mr. F. H. Emery's block was overcome by the heat Tuesday. A physician was called and he was soon able to go to his home in Westbrook.

Mr. W. W. Cressey, who lives about one mile from the village, had a valuable gray horse, new harness and top buggy, stolen from his stable Tuesday night. There is no clue to the perpetrators.

The Epworth League will give an ice cream and strawberry festival in the Methodist Episcopal vestry Friday evening.

A New Bark.

Mr. John Brooks of East Boston has the keel laid and a few frames for a 100-ton bark, which is to be commanded by Capt. E. M. Knight, formerly of the barque Edward L. Mayberry. The new vessel will be 175 feet long, 39 feet beam and 13 feet deep. She will have three decks, will be classed A1 and will be owned principally by Capt. Knight and parties in Portland and New York. The vessel is expected to be completed and ready for sea in November.

UNITARIAN CONFERENCE.

The Proceedings at the Yarmouth Meeting Yesterday.

RESOURCES AND PROGRESS OF NEW ENGLAND UNITARIANISM.

Work Must Be Curtailed This Year for Lack of Funds—View of the Field Given by Rev. Mr. Reynolds—Rev. J. C. Carroll's Essay on Sunday Schools—The Woman's Alliance.

The twenty-eighth annual conference of the Unitarian churches of Maine began its business sessions at the Central church in Yarmouth, yesterday forenoon. A devotional meeting, led by Rev. C. E. Newbert of Augusta, began at 9 a. m., with the topic, "The devotion of spirit; what is it?" Remarks were made by Rev. J. L. Marsh of Saco, Rev. Messrs. Locke of Castine, Porter of Presque Isle and Kenyon. The latter is one of the graduates from the Congregational church at Bangor this year, who was not assigned to a charge as his views did not conform with those of the Congregationalists. He will probably enter the Unitarian or Universalist denominations, taking a year either at Cambridge or Tufts.

George C. Burgess, Esq., of Portland, was selected for presiding officer. In taking the chair he referred briefly to the death during the year of Hon. Hannibal Hamlin, the president of the conference, and to the resignation of Hon. Jos. W. Symonds, the vice president.

The report of the secretary, Rev. J. L. Marsh, being read, the following committee were appointed to report a board of officers for the ensuing year: Hon. M. P. Emery of Portland, Mr. Hall of Kennebunk, and Mrs. Hamilton of Saco. As a committee on resolution on the death of Hon. Hannibal Hamlin, Messrs. Beach of Bangor, and Seward of Waterville, and Mrs. E. C. Jordan of Portland were appointed.

It was voted to send a congratulatory despatch to Rev. C. C. Vinal, former secretary of the conference, who was yesterday being installed at Lebanon, N. H. Rev. Grindall Reynolds of Boston, secretary of the American Unitarian Association, addressed the conference upon the missionary and aggressive work of Unitarianism. This was a difficult work the speaker said, since in the first place the denomination was only 450 parishes strong, and secondly, the field is very broad.

In New England the work most pressing is the taking care of many of the struggling parishes which are in danger of extinction. Many of these are the old, historic parishes of the church. There is a danger that with the decline of the population in some of our towns there may come a moral and intellectual decline. These places are the nurseries of our cities and of the West, and they must be kept up. In the large, growing towns, now flourishing from manufacturing, Unitarian churches must be established. Brockton's church illustrates the good that can be done.

Passing from New England to the Middle States we find an awakening where there has been stagnation, and there are 30 or 40 towns where Unitarian churches might be planted.

In the West there is a great field, for there must be 10 New England people beyond the Alleghenies to one of the Puritan stock in the old home. These sons of New England must be led with the old faith of their fathers.

The capacity of the American Unitarian Association to meet this demand was inadequate, the speaker said. The board of directors have decided that the efforts of the association must be curtailed thirty per cent the coming year for lack of means. In the first five years a most successful work had been done. Formerly eight new churches had been formed in twenty years; but in the last five years one hundred and twenty churches had been founded. In doing this work the association has spent $25,000 a year more than the churches have contributed. This has been kept up for seven years, in the course of which all the legacies but $75,000 have been expended. This residue must be kept for use as a collateral to be used in tiding over while the contributions are coming in.

To keep the work up the churches must give at least 50 per cent more than they are giving now. Of the 450 or 460 parishes only about 230 contribute. They might give $250,000 as well as $52,000.

The speaker thought that Unitarians everywhere needed to feel, as they do feel, that Unitarianism is good for the rest of the world as well as for themselves. One people rejoice in the truth of their religion, but they don't seem to think of it as of any good to the rest of the world. The speaker thought that if, as his old friend Dorman Eaton had recently said at Brattleboro, the ladies would shorten their skirts and subscribe what they cut off, and the men would save a little on cigars, the liberal religion could be carried forth. There was also a need of more knowledge of the work of the association. There was too much packing away of the annual reports.

More method and promptness were also needed in raising and forwarding the contributions. A thousand dollars of interest were spent last year which might have been saved by more promptness in forwarding contributions.

In reply to a question Mr. Reynolds said he thought that in the last 10 years the churches of Maine had made annual contributions of $600 to $900 to the association, while it has put into the state from $1200 to $1500 yearly. He thought that this year Maine churches would receive about $900 more than they would give.

Rev. John Carroll Perkins, of Portland, followed with an essay on the Sunday school, which he considered the most Democratic element in modern church life. The Sunday school was not originally a church institution, but rather a philanthropic movement. About a hundred years ago an English printer, Robert Raikes, started the first Sunday school at Gloucester, Eng., for the purpose of doing some good among the children of that town who spent their Sundays in the streets. Raikes at first employed four women as teachers, each getting three shillings. From this school sprang an extended movement, promoted later by a London society, which raised and expended large sums of money.

This was followed by another era, when the work of teaching became voluntary instead of paid. Still later secular education was eliminated, and the Sunday schools became what they are today.

The modern Sunday school should satisfy all the demands for religious education, and is not a place for children alone, but should include all the people of the parish.

Its spheres of purpose should be religious, intellectual and social. It should be the first work of the school to develop the conception of the spiritual. The Old Testament stories, the fairy tales and mythology may all serve the purpose of developing in the growing mind those lines of thought which may lead to something better. The exaggerations of mythology would only stimulate the mind in its search for real truth.

There is the intellectual purpose in the Sunday school. The division between secular and religious studies has been too distinct. No literature is so rich and varied as religious, and the Sunday school should be a place where religious history and literature may be studied.

The social purpose of the school is important, and should be fostered by a beautiful ritual, and by such exercises as will teach the scholars that they are workers together in a great movement.

Mr. Perkins's paper was discussed by Messrs. Reynolds, Porter, Locke and by Mrs. E. C. Jordan.

Mrs. Jordan spoke first of the establishment of the feeling of trust in the mind of the little one. She knew a little one who, while bewailing that she must remain alone in the house for an evening, was reminded that God would be with her. "Yes," said the little one, "but I should prefer some member of the family."

Mrs. Jordan thought that children should be sent to Sunday school as they are sent to week day schools, regularly and continuously.

Mrs. Hamilton of Saco also spoke briefly.

THE AFTERNOON.

The first business of the afternoon was the report of the nominating committee, which was as follows:

Vice President—Hon. J. W. Symonds, Portland.
President—Geo. C. Burgess, Esq., Portland.
Secretary and Treasurer—Rev. J. L. Marsh, Saco.
Executive Committee—Rev. J. C. Perkins of Portland, J. P. Hopkins of Ellsworth, Mark P. Emery and Mr. Hall of Kennebunk.
Missionary Committee—Rev. J. L. Seward of Waterville, Rev. J. M. Marsh of Saco, and Rev. S. C. Beach of Bangor.
Finance Committee—Rev. Mr. Seward, J. P. Farrington of Portland, and Mrs. S. M. Ware of Waterville.

This report was accepted and the officers were elected.

The committee on resolutions reported the following resolution on the death of Hon. Hannibal Hamlin:

Resolved, That in Mr. Hamlin, a strong and unique personality is missing to our country. Marked in his characteristics, he exhibited, wherever his sincere sympathy was evoked, a true loyalty and a reverence to a cause, and brought into it at once his own delicate qualities of mind and heart. Remarkable for his talents, his energy, his distinguished statesman and patriot, our eminent president lives in our memories respected, regretted and sincerely beloved.

Upon the suggestion of Mr. Burgess the work of preparing resolutions on the late Dr. Hill was left to the same committee.

Rev. J. C. Perkins presented a resolution of welcome referring to the coming meeting of the Unitarian Sunday School Association, which for the first time is to hold its annual meeting in Portland in the early part of October.

Missionary Work.

Rev. J. L. Seward of Waterville read a very bright paper on the missionary work done during the year. In company with Mr. Perkins, Mr. Marsh and others, he has held meetings in Dixfield, Winthrop, Farmington, Yarmouth, Caribou, Presque Isle, Fort Fairfield and Blaine. In these places they found promising fields if they could have men and money to improve them.

Mr. Seward believes that in small places the Unitarians and Universalists should unite in the maintenance of a union church. The differences between the two denominations are small, in theological questions amounting to little more than the difference between two shades of blue and red. While not favoring an amalgamation, the speaker thought that their efforts might in many places be united.

Mr. Seward gave a general view of the condition of the denomination throughout the state, which he showed to be good. In speaking of the Portland First Parish he paid an appropriate tribute to the memory of the late Dr. Hill.

In charitable contributions the Saco society head the list.

For the missionary work next year $300 will be required, although only $42 were spent last year.

The Women's Alliance.

The meeting of the Woman's Alliance was called to order by Mrs. Marcia B. Jordan, its president. After a short address by the president and a preliminary service, Mrs. M. E. Bartlett of Waterville, gave the address of welcome.

Mrs. F. W. Barry of Kennebunk, gave her report as secretary and treasurer.

Miss M. E. Fox of Portland, reported for the Post Office mission, and Miss Helen N. Bates gave a report of some mission work in India.

These officers were elected:

President—Mrs. M. B. Jordan of Portland.
Vice Presidents—Mrs. J. S. True of Augusta, Mrs. Annie Noyes of Portland.
Secretary and Treasurer—Mrs. F. W. Barry Kennebunk.

The Unitarian Association.

The Maine Unitarian Association, which is custodian of the funds of the conference, held its annual meeting yesterday. The fund is now over $7,000, having accumulated about $500 in the last year. The officers elected are as follows:

President—Joseph W. Symonds of Portland.
Vice President—Wm. Gore of Freeport.
Treasurer—Mark P. Emery of Portland.
Secretary—Rev. J. L. Marsh of Saco.
Financial Committee—Joseph W. Symonds of Portland, Mark P. Emery of Portland, D. Hopkins of Ellsworth, Geo. P. Talbot of Portland, Geo. A. Emery of Saco, ex-Gov. Selden Connor of Portland.

The Carpenters' Picnic.

The committee of arrangements for the carpenters' picnic have a prize of a $15 suit of clothes for the splitting saw contest from the Atkinson Company, and it will be an interesting contest for a large number of the carpenters here entered.

SWETT GETS THERE.

Result of the Democratic Caucuses Last Evening.

The Democratic caucuses to elect delegates to the county convention, were held last evening. The ward rooms were crowded, for the Democrats hope to get a "rum sheriff" this fall, and the crowds in some cases stretched way out onto the sidewalk. City Marshal Swett got there, and policemen were on duty in all the caucuses. Mr. Somers got one ward, the first, and Swett the other six. The particulars in the wards follow:

Ward One.

Five hundred people turned out in Ward 1. It was a caucus which astonished the average Democratic heart in its numbers and intensity. The hidden influence which had been at work on the sheriff question had apparently produced a great popular uprising for the fellow who was to "down Cram" as the vernacular has it. John Davis was chairman and John Gillis, secretary. Two printed ballots were in the field: one in white for Mr. Robert F. Somers and one in blue for City Marshal Swett. There was not a little controversy. Ballots were protested, but the fight went bravely on. When the vote was announced it showed that the Robert F. Somers ticket in a total vote of 318 had 180. The Somers people were satisfied in Ward 1.

Ward Two.

There was nothing dead about the Democratic caucus in Ward 2, of old renown, last evening. The clans mustered in such numbers that the India street engine house wouldn't hold them, while the agents of Somers, Tolman and Swett moved about until the crowd was worked up into a proper state of ferment.

Ex-Alderman Michael McCann managed Swett's shrill cry boom; W. H. Sargent had his coat off for Tolman, and Joseph D. McCloskey pulled the stooge oar on the Somers craft.

The caucus was called to order promptly by City Liquor Agent Daniel Carr and Edward Duddy was chosen chairman. Mr. Lewis W. A. Johnson, who is always secretary, was chosen by acclamation. Michael Flaherty was chosen on the committee to count the votes.

Florence F. Driscoll was nominated. Ex-Alderman McCann objected because Driscoll was on the Somers ticket. But he was voted in in spite of McCann's objections.

W. H. Sargent was elected third checker amid cries of No! No! Then "Joe" McCloskey jumped upon a table and said: "In beginning a caucus it is well—"

"Get down! Get down! Pull him down! Let him go! Shut up! What is he about?" rang from a hundred throats.

"Order! Order! Order!" yelled the chairman.

"In beginning a caucus it is well!" began the orator on the table again.

The uproar began again.

"What do you want to do?" said the chairman.

"I want to nominate a sheriff," replied McCloskey.

"Then do it," replied the chairman, "and don't talk around so much."

"I want to nominate Robert F. Somers, [loud cheers and yells], the man who has already got thirty-two delegates from the—"

"Hoo-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o" was the wild whoop that sent McCloskey off the table into the crowd.

Then the voting began with much tumult. The managers of the candidates stood over the ballot boxes to challenge, watch and urge, John Cavanagh for Swett, McCloskey, "Ted" Farr and Mahoney for Somers. Occasionally a man would be cast out for not being registered. A Jew who was thus refused walked off as if he considered this part of the persecution of his race.

The Swett tickets were printed on blue paper, so it was quite easy for the city marshal's managers to tell how their partisans were voting.

The vote resulted as follows:

The excitement which was anticipated in Ward 3 did not materialize. There was a large caucus, but perfectly orderly. H. H. Verrill called the caucus to order, and Arthur H. Farnsworth was chosen chairman and Chas. Collins, secretary. Thomas McGillicuddy and Robert Ahern were appointed tellers. The check list was used. The following is the result of the caucuses:

Ward Four.

The caucus in ward 4 was a very large and noisy one. At precisely 7.30 Mr. E. C. Swett called the caucus to order and announced that nominations for a chairman were in order. E. C. Swett and W. J. Healy were nominated and Mr. Swett was elected amid great cheering. Mr. Swett, in acknowledging the honor, said: "Gentlemen, we are not here in the interest of any individual, but in the interest of men who believe in the iniquity of the prohibitory law." Thomas E. Barry was chosen secretary and Patrick Sullivan and Cornelius Murry to act on the check list. At 7.43 the voting began after several skirmishes that came very near resulting in a free fight. The Swett men, who had formed a police phalanx, were greatly in the majority from the start and elected their delegates by a handsome majority. Below is the exact vote:

SWETT TICKET.
Joseph W. Peters.....180

Ward Five.

In Ward 5 there was an effort made by a portion of the crowded caucus to elect H. C. Sweeney for chairman, but the caucus decided to have Stephen C. Perry. Then came quite a struggle to get a secretary, each man declining, until Colonel A. W. Bradbury took pity on the crowd and consented to serve. Then Mr. Mitchell was chosen to check and count votes for Tolman, Mr. Kavanagh for Somers, and Moxey for Swett. Precisely at 8.30 o'clock, the chairman asked if all had voted, and the answer being in the affirmative the polls were closed. The following were the tickets:

SWETT TICKET.
William H. Moulton, Robert A. McCluthey, James W. Plutskan, Charles J. Wiggins, Henry Winslip, J. H. Bradley.

TOLMAN TICKET.
J. M. Edwards, A. D. Sweetser, Spencer Rogers, W. H. Anderson, B. F. Mitchell, Samuel Libby.

SOMERS TICKET.
Martin H. Kavanagh, James P. Bogan, John E. O'Connell, Hugh A. Sweeney, William P. Mohan, Thomas W. Donahue.

The Swett ticket received 79 votes, the Tolman 55, and the Somers 63.

Ward Six.

For almost half an hour before the time came for the caucus to assemble men began to gather in front of the engine house on Spring street. Each candidate for sheriff had his ballot distributor, and from the size of the caucus after it was called together, the ballots were all needed. It was evident that the call of the city committee didn't please some of those present and they didn't hesitate to express the opinion that the committee had no right to demand a check list, and no right to state how long the polls should be kept open.

Mr. Luther B. Roberts called the meeting to order and read the call. The Swett ticket had a slip attached bearing the name of Hanno W. Gage for chairman. This slip was a source of disgust to the friends of the other candidates, and they insisted that no one had any business to bring in votes for chairman in that way; that a true Democratic caucus selected the chairman from the floor.

"I nominate Wm. H. Green for chairman," said a voice.

"Second the nomination," came from every direction, and Green was elected. Then Arthur Gould was elected secretary unanimously.

"Now," said Chairman Green, "about this check list business."

"That's for the caucus to decide," cried out Mr. Flaherty. "The caucus is a supreme body and controls its own actions. The city committee can call a caucus for a stated purpose, but how that caucus will conduct its business is their business and not the committee's."

"Good for you," sang out several; "that's the true doctrine."

"What will you do with the check list?" said the chairman.

The caucus voted unanimously to use it. The caucus then settled down to business. These were the tickets:

SWETT TICKET.
Payson Tucker, Hanno W. Gage, Thos. A. Donahue, Chas. A. Gay, James E. Owen, Fred E. Haskell.

SOMERS TICKET.
B. F. Freethy, John H. Lee, Thomas Carey, William Skerritt, Patrick H. Smith, Thomas H. Flaherty.

TOLMAN TICKET.
Fred E. Haskell, Wm. H. Green, Geo. H. Knight, Jos. G. Currier, Fred F. Sears, Timothy Ahern.

The Swett ticket had 75 votes, the Tolman 65 and Somers 41.

Ward Seven.

At 7.45, Mr. George F. Swett, chairman of the Democratic city committee of this ward called the caucus to order. Hon. W. H. Clifford was chairman and Mr. John A. Welsh secretary. There was no excitement in this ward. The following were the tickets:

SWETT TICKET.
James A. Pinkerton, Nathan Clifford, William Deehan, Charles A. Cushing, Charles E. Nash, P. J. Larrabee.

SOMERS TICKET.
George Riley, John T. Murphy, Patrick J. Frank, John H. Dawson, Thomas J. Flaherty, Frank D. McCarthy.

TOLMAN TICKET.
E. W. Hunt, John T. Murphy, Harry C. Mason, George Riley, George E. Cady, John H. Dawson.

The ticket representing Tolman was a consolidation of the Somers and Tolman tickets. The votes were as follows:

For the Swett ticket.....115
"Somers ticket.....41
"Tolman ticket.....16

Mr. Mills Has Mrs. Sawyer Before

Judge Elder.

Quite a Little Sparring Occurs Between

Counsel—Mrs. Sawyer Claims She

Owens the Well—The Judge Does Not

Find Probable Cause—Mr. Mills is Going to Find Out Who is Boss of the Well.

At the municipal court in Deering yesterday, the case came up for trial of Charles S. Mills of Lunt's Corner, against Mrs. Aurelia Sawyer of the same place. The dispute was over a well.

Judge Elder presided. Mr. Geo. Libby

appeared for the complainant, and Mr.

George C. Hopkins for the respondent.

Mr. Chas. S. Mills, was the first witness for the complaint, and in response to

Mr. Libby's questions, testified he lived on the John Motley place at Lunt's Corner, in the same house with his father, who had bought the place about the first of last May. Mrs. Sawyer, the defendant, lives in the next house. Shortly after they had moved in, Chas. Sawyer,

Mrs. Sawyer's son, asked him how he liked the place. He replied that there was one trouble with it, and that was the well, which was covered simply with a large rock with a hole in it, and he was afraid that the children would fall in. Therefore, he intended to put a curb around it. "Don't you do it," said Sawyer. "I own that well." It was on the evening of June 1, soon after supper, that Mills and his father were at work placing the curb around the well,

Mrs. Sawyer having pushed it off several days before, when somebody said: "Get away from there." Then the blows, from an ax in the hands of Mrs. Sawyer came instantly right and left, and one of them

struck his hand, causing a swelling about as large as a cent. His father's head was bent, and he thought it was going to get hit. He said nothing, he was so surprised, but simply got out of the way. He didn't know whether the blow on his hand was intentional, but felt sure that he would have been struck again if he hadn't got out of the way.

Mrs. Sawyer had taken the curb away because she claimed to own the well.

The curb was not very high. It had been made to support a windlass, so that his wife could draw the water as she is a very small woman.

John Mills was then called to the stand and corroborated his son's statements, saying that the blows came

"quick and spiteful."

Mr. Hopkins then stated the case for the defense, claiming that Mrs. Sawyer owned the well and claimed the right to knock the curb away. Mr. Libby objected, claiming that the question was a case of assault upon Charles S. Mills.

Mr. Hopkins said that the defense was a justification of her action on the claim of title to the well.

Mr. Libby took exceptions on the ground that the court could not decide upon questions of title. It had nothing to do with the question of ownership as between John Mills and Mrs. Sawyer,

but was a case of assault upon Charles

Mills.

John Mills continued his testimony saying that he had put the curb there for the safety of the children and for greater convenience in draining the water and that it was better for Mrs. Sawyer as well as himself.

Clara E. Mills was then called to the stand and testified that she was sitting on the doorstep while her husband,

Chas. Mills, and his father, were at work on the curb; that she saw Mrs. Sawyer coming from her house and saw her lift the ax over the curb and over

John Mills's head. She was so afraid that she would be struck that she screamed.

The judge asked if she saw Mrs. Sawyer strike towards either of the men and she replied in the affirmative, saying that a blow was directed towards John Mills's head, and that he dodged it or he would have been struck. While delivering her testimony the three members of the Mills family displayed considerable heat and are evidently exasperated with

Mrs. Sawyer's decidedly vigorous objections to their placing a curb around the well.

Mrs. Sawyer then took the stand. She is a large and determined looking woman, at least 60 years of age. She testified that she had lived at Lunt's Corner for 45 years; that she had always used water from the well; that her husband, who died a year ago last winter, had maintained and owned the well, though she admitted it was on the premises of the Mills place and nearer their house than her line. She said that it wasn't three days after the Millses came, that there was trouble about the well. She told them that the well was hers and she didn't "want no curb on it." She said they were afraid that the children would fall in; that there was a cover over the hole in the stone; that the well was about nine feet deep. When the curb was first placed there she had pushed it off. On the evening of June 1, she saw Mrs. Sawyer from her window that the Millses were at work on the curb. She went out into

The Judge then said that the case did not involve the matter of right, as to ownership of the well, but was centered in the point as to whether Mrs. Sawyer had attacked the men or the well curb.

Since the complaint was in the form of an indictment for assault and battery against Chas. S. Mills, and since it had not been clearly proved that his hand was struck by the ax, intentionally or otherwise, he could not find probable cause against Mrs. Sawyer on that point.

Mr. John Mills says that he had been perfectly willing that Mrs. Sawyer should use the well, and that he had been patient with her apparent unreasonable opposition to his improving it, until the evening of her attack with the ax. That culmination had aroused his resentment and he proposes to find out who is going to dictate in regard to that well in the future.
